CLOSE OF THE SESSIOM.

The Summer session of Congress closes on Saturday, immediately after passing the reconstruction sel, over the President's velo-A warm discussion was had upon the ques tion of adjourning to meet according to law, in December, or at an earlier day. Those who are orging the impeachment advocated a meeting in October, and finally effected a compromise, agreeing upon an adjournment to the 13th of November.

An attempt was made and carried to have the testimeny gathered by the Committee read before the reljourment. It was bought 1965 the Harse, but preliminary motions delayed the reading entil the hour fixed for adjourning, and so it was not read. Some time was spent in the Senate by Mr. Fessenden yindicating himself from the charges of conservatism, alleged by Mr. Chandler, and Mr. Wilson occupied some time in the House in a similar way.

The reaction has of itself shown the wisdom of those members who urged the holding of a meeting in July, and they may well feel some exultation as they look back upon the circums acres which called them together, and upon the work which has been done at session which was so strongly opposed by a large proportion of the members. The voice of the people is with those who are unwilof the people is with those who are unwilling to leave the affains of the country in the fands of a man who has proved so recreant to the trast reposed in him as Mr. Johnson has, and who is in a position which gives thin so much power and influence for the metallic exides to the ingredients, it may be made to take all the fine tones of color most prized by architects, or to imitate exactly any species of stone in common use. The writer the writer the writer has soon it made into every face as smooth as star and as true as a plannet. By the addition of different metallic exidence in the ingredients, it may be made to take all the fine tones of color most prized by architects, or to imitate exactly any species of stone in common use. The thwarting the wishes of those who have the bublic welfare at litart, and are so adverse to the policy which he has persistently endeavored to cary out.

With singular strength of conviction the great mass of the people hold to the views with which they waged the war for the Union, and there is a constant repetition of the evidence that nothing that has been gained for freadom and progress will be surrendered so bag as the power to central public affairs continues in the people's hand:

Mr. Johnson reiterates his views in veto nat. sages, but his words fall with little weight on unconviner I minds. The purpose to obstruct the measures which have received the popular approval, is apparent in every paragraph, but the representatives, who are much nearer to the popular heart, than he, reflect the sentiments which they flad prevalent among their constituents, and they have, thus far, proved eminently faithful to

There are presses and speakers who often tell us, that we are living under the rule of an usurping Congress. If there is to be an tistiped government, it is clear that the loyat people much prefer that of Coogless to that of Mr. Johnson. The President has plainly used powers that do not belong to his office. Congress has not gone beyond the limits of the Constitution, and has only conformed its action to a state of affairs which the framers of the Constitution never government of Congress is preferable to that

American fécies to English Estatés. Every now and then some great estate in England falls into changery for woul of heirs direct, and there is a great pother among the "collaterals" is this country. The longor the matter has been in litigation, of course the greater the number of claimants. In such a condition is the great Jennings estate and still more recently, a discovery has been made of a vast property lying perdu for a century past, to which the members of the Brown family are supposed to be heirs. This estate is said to amount to some billions of dollars; but then, think of the infinitisemal division it must madergo to give every member of the Brown family his or her just

The Browns are almost as immerousrather innumerables as the Smiths. Fancy an estate left to the Smiths! Suppose that the heirs-expectant should decide to go to England in a body to see personally after their claim. It would be an invasion! Join Bull would instantly imagine a new and formidable Fenica descent. The fleet carrying these "coasins" would be taken for a modern armada,

As yet, however, the paper from which the notice of this wiedfall was taken, reports that only one had bed representatives of the Brown family have gathered together in Hoslon, to take means to prescente their claims. The misley of means most be the easiest matter of all. Just let every true Brown subscribe a dime-or even a penny -and the lawye of fees and expenses will be magnificently provided for. Success to the Browns!

The Providence Journal tells of a new and cheap building material soon to be manufactured in this State, from which much cheaper, handsomer and more durable houses can be constructed than from any which has heretofore been used. It combines the beau nercotore been used. It combines the learn-try and solidity of free-tone with the advan-tage of being one-third cheaper than the cheapest brick. It is the American huilding block, patented by the Rhode Island Build-ing Block Company, already extensively in-troduced in other States, and whose possess-ion, in the most perfect degree, of all the qualities desirable in a building material has been thereupdde tested in ones been as been thoroughly tested in many large and expensive structures. All builders who have tried it, and all other persons who have interested themselves in it, sufficiently to un-derstand what it is, have become convinced that it will be generally adopted at no distant day. It is composed of sand, time and rement, combined in proper proportions with heat, moisture and great compression. It is a beautiful nesterial, smooth surfaced, fine grained, with mathematically true pro-portions, and perfectly even and uniform in its planes and angles. We have seen it vicees and prehitectural embellishments al one-liftle the cost of freestone carvings. The same claborate results are thus produced as by the most skillful and difficult labor of the stone cutter. There is a yard in New York stone enter. There is a yard in New York where everything is made that the stone enter makes, the work, which has hitherto required weeks, being done in a few hours. It is a durable material. Its particles are bound together by one of the most firmly cohering substances in nature, chemically produced in the process of manufacture. We have a likely of its place of the most strength of the process of manufacture. have a block of it which has been alternate-by heated and frozen twenty five times without fracture or disintegration. We have seen it used as the framinition of massive and ponderous machinery, where it extract all the stability of the hammered granite. Mortar has such an affinity for it that it soon knits the wall into a monolith, which it is im possible for any ordinary means to tear apart. Mr. Mungen, of Ohio, towle a speech last week also on the Reconstruction hill, which helps to explain how the use of the "proxious question" became so popular with the majurity. He filled six columns of The Globe with a dissertation on race, on the hereditary transmission of physical peculiarities, on the comparative size of the negro brain. If it had been a good dissertation, it would nevertheless have been an outrageous encreachment on the time of the House; last it was not good. It was a string of scraps of jobermation, most of them alward, strings together conceived as possible; and their nets meet by a gentleman who know nothing whalever the popular approval. On all accounts, the of the subject, and he had the assurance to confess, before he sat down, that for "most of the ideas and thoughts contained in his remarks he was indebted to his extremed friend, Dr. O. White, of Tolcdo, Oldo,"-We trust Dr. O. White will stop Mr. Mungen's supply of facts between now and December. If he sends him back to Washington charged in a similar manner on any other subject, he will be guilty of a crime against free specch.

MEDIANG OF THE BOARD OF ALBERTANES. --A special faceting of the Board of Aldermen was held last evening. The case of William A. Franklin, keeper of the Clarendon House, came up for violation of the law forbidding the sale of liquor on the Sah, bath. The principal evidence against his was two members of the police, who per clased a glass of alc, there on the Sabbath for the purpose of convicting him.

The matter was argued by Aldermen Weaver and Simmons, on the question of revoking Franklin's licease, Alderman Weaver thought that if the spy system must be resorted to to convict man, it had better be let alone; he considered Mr. Franklin a persocuted man.

Abbruan Simmons thought a sale had and here was an opportunity for an example and he hoped it would be improved. He moved that the license be revoked. The question was taken and to t, only Alderman Simmons voting in the affirmative.
